

TRIAL COURT REVERSED IN PINE WOOD SUIT

Circuit Court of Appeals Hands Down Decision in Hutchinson Case.

ACTION PREMATURELY BROUGHT
Acceptance of Less Than Stipulated Amount Operates as Waiver and Stops Plaintiff From Recovery for Nonobservance of Contract.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in an opinion handed down yesterday by Judge Knapp, held that the suit for damages brought by H. R. Hutchinson, of Prince William County, against the New York and Pennsylvania Company, pulp wood manufacturers, in which it was alleged that the company had failed to live up to its contract, was prematurely brought and cannot be maintained in so far as it is based upon a majority of the counts. The opinion of the court was a reversal of Judge Edmund A. Maguire, Jr., of the District Court at Alexandria.

Judge Knapp concurred in the opinion that the judgment of the lower court should be reversed, but dissented from the conclusion that a provision of the contract under which the company was to have cut at least 1,000 cords of wood a year, is not severable from the rest. The case will be remanded to the trial court for further proceedings.

Hutchinson owns an extensive tract of land in Prince William County, on which there was a large quantity of pine timber. In 1911 he sold the timber over a specified area to the New York and Pennsylvania Company, the contract providing that it could be made in five years. There was a clause in the contract, however, that bound the company to cut and remove at least 1,000 cords a year.

ALLEGED TO VIOLATE CONTRACT
At the end of three years, Hutchinson brought suit, alleging failure of the company to cut 1,000 cords in each of the years mentioned, failure to cut reasonably low pine trees so as to leave no stumps exceeding twelve inches high, according to contract, failure to report 2,000 cords that had been cut and removed, failure to remove all pulp wood that had been reported and permitted to remain, and other violations of the contract.

The court held that the contract was executed. That there was an indefinite and uncertain quantity of wood specified for which Hutchinson would receive payment on a stumpage basis. That it was not a sale of standing timber for which the seller would receive a definite sum of money.

PLAINTIFF MAY RECOVER
The court held that the contract was executed. That there was an indefinite and uncertain quantity of wood specified for which Hutchinson would receive payment on a stumpage basis. That it was not a sale of standing timber for which the seller would receive a definite sum of money.

COTTON-GROWING STATES GIVE MORE AREA TO WHEAT

Next Year's Crop Estimated at Almost 500,000,000 Bushels by Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, December 17.—Next year's wheat crop was estimated today by the Department of Agriculture at about 500,000,000 bushels. That would be 115,000,000 bushels less than the wheat crop harvested this season, but approximately 100,000,000 bushels more than the average of the five years, 1909-12.

In the cotton-growing states there was an increased area planted to winter wheat. Virginia planted 1,371,000 acres, an increase of 7 per cent over the area sown in the fall of 1914; North Carolina, 1,060,000, an increase of 1 per cent; South Carolina, 225,000 acres, the same as last year; Georgia, 345,000 acres, an increase of 1 per cent; Alabama, 138,000 acres, an increase of 12 per cent; Mississippi, 1,041,000 acres, an increase of 20 per cent; Texas, 1,047,000 acres, 1 per cent decrease; Oklahoma, 2,241,000 acres, 14 per cent decrease; Arkansas, 2,410,000 acres, 8 per cent increase; Tennessee, 925,000 acres, 26 per cent increase.

Winter wheat was sown this fall on 37,226,000 acres, a decrease of 11 per cent from 1914.

The condition of winter wheat, December 1, was 87.5 per cent of normal compared with 82.5 last year and 90.5 the ten-year average.

The condition of eye on December 1, was 75 per cent of normal, compared with 70 last year and 80.5 the ten-year average.

PEOPLE TO ELECT CHARTER-CHANGERS

emergency fund to take care of needs which could not be met by the city. A drastic amendment provides that any city officer voting to create a debt shall be liable for the amount previously appropriated, when no funds for the purpose shall be available to meet the obligation.

POINT TO CHANGES
The committee recommends that the charter be amended to provide for the election of a city council, and that the city be divided into wards.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS
Citizens in attendance upon the committee last night were disposed particularly in view of the situation of the charter commission plan to create the committee with having appointed itself of the task imposed upon it in a reasonably satisfactory manner. The Health and Police Department transfers amendments, it was pointed out, are at least radical changes from the present form of government, and presumably in the direction of improvement.

For a stormy but successful session the committee record in dealing with the charter reform task entrusted to it was under stern review. It happened when the committee towards the middle of the session was debating whether it should adopt Mr. Meredith's suggestion that the charter commission be appointed by the judge of the Hustings Court, or select that plan and adopt the Civic Association's scheme providing for the election of the commission by the people.

Charles V. Meredith spoke at length in favor of appointment by the Hustings Court. In selecting the judge of the Hustings Court for this duty, he said, he had in mind the fact that this judge is nearest to city and its problems than any of the other city judges who are concerned more exclusively with the business of their courts.

REMISS DELIVERS HIS THIRD PHILIPPIC
This argument gave H. I. Remiss, of the citizens' representation, the text for the third of a series of gentle philippics against the committee on the score of its failure to live up to the record expected of it. Unlike Mr. Meredith, he feared that the close relationship of the judge of the Hustings Court to the city and its affairs would detract from, instead of enhance, his value as the appointing power in the make-up of the proposed charter commission.

"It is, perhaps, a harsh thing to say," said Mr. Remiss, "but perhaps our own incompetency to deal with the task that was entrusted to this committee is due in a large degree to the fact that its members are so closely connected with and so immediately interested in certain phases of the city's affairs. The members do not possess the abstraction and independence of those interested in a cool, disinterested study of the charter-reform problem demands."

"Two thousand years ago there lived a man named Cato, who was a member of the City Council of Rome. Whenever he made a speech, whether it was on regulating the price of cattle or on discussing the problem of the arena, he inevitably wound up with the declaration that Carthage must be destroyed."

WILL GRAPPLE
WITH LARGER PROBLEMS
"In somewhat the same manner, I am afraid, I have come to conclude that the members of this committee must grapple with larger problems, or saying something harsh. I think there is in this community a widespread dissatisfaction because this committee has failed to grapple with the large problem of charter reform, and has spent its energies in making trivial amendments. We have fallen far short of performing the important task that was entrusted to us."

"There certainly can be no objection to the creation of a charter commission to determine what the committee has failed to perform, and to elect this commission by the people. If, after a new charter is framed by this commission, the people share the view that the committee appears to have—that no drastic reform of the charter is needed—it will defeat the charter, and we will be no worse off than we are now."

It was the third time that Mr. Remiss had in this manner characterized the committee's action. Alderman Christian took up the cudgel in defense of his colleagues.

SAVS BANKER MEMBERS
GAVE LITTLE ASSISTANCE
"While Mr. Remiss appears to be disappointed with the work of the committee," he said, "there are some members of the committee who own to a degree of disappointment at the work of the committee. They have received at the hands of the citizens members. This is especially true in its application to the reform of the city's finances. Some members of the committee expected assistance on this point from the bankers, but they have received nothing from them."

Both Mr. Remiss and Mr. McAdams are bankers, and the thrust was unpleasantly personal. Mr. Remiss arose for a minute to tell the committee that he acknowledged freely that he personally had contributed nothing to its work.

"Are you delivering yourself of a burden now?" asked Councilman Pollock.

"I am," replied Mr. Remiss.

At this point Councilman Pollock, who had a heart full of resentment against Mr. Remiss's structures, said:

"I desire to report on behalf of the city and of its elected representatives on this committee, the remarks just made by the citizen members," began Mr. Pollock, speaking with considerable heat.

Mr. Chairman, protested Citizen Remiss, "are we to sit here and be criticized by the city attorney? I think this is it, out of order, for one, did not come here to listen to anything like this."

SAYS COMMITTEE MEMBERS ARE TRUSTED REPRESENTATIVES
Chairman Jones, ripped on the table for order.

"I will withdraw the statement that I repeat the language of the citizen members," said the city attorney, continuing in spite of the interruption. "For the third time this gentleman has found it necessary to criticize the committee, and to hold up as preferable the views pressed by the Civic Association."

"The members of this committee are the trusted representatives of the people. The voters of this city have repeatedly sent these men back to the Council to represent them and to discharge their trust. In the front of me I see a Councilman who has been returned to this body at least ten times. Shall we be told again and again that these trusted and respected representatives of the people are not fit to represent them and that the members of the Civic Association, not elected by the people, are alone so fit?"

POLLOCK POORS OIL
ON TROUBLED WATERS
The City Attorney continued in the same strain for a minute or two longer and sat down. Councilman Pollock expressed regret that the committee had not made his remarks so personal.

There was no reason, he said, to draw invidious comparisons between the work of the Council and citizen members of the committee. Both, he said, had done their best, and whatever had been accomplished by their united endeavor.

Alderman Christian explained that he meant no discourtesy to any member of the citizens' committee by his reference to the failure of some Council members to secure certain expert assistance from them, but declining to retract that statement.

Alderman Pollock abruptly shifted the tenor of the talk by addressing himself to the question under discussion, and by his declaration of the plan calling for the election of the charter commission by the people. The civil war was over.

Hand Amputated.
Julien Stenland, colored, of 118 1-2 West Jackson Street, was hurt yesterday afternoon while working with a large machine, and was taken to the Virginia Hospital. It was found necessary that his hand be amputated, and the operation was performed by Dr. Peple.

Plans for a campaign by the congress in the interests of the South, and for cooperation of various Southern trade bodies.

TO ESTABLISH JOINT OFFICES
FOR AIDING THE EMPLOYED
Resolutions calling for Federal appropriations and legislation to establish joint offices for aiding the unemployed were adopted at a conference of Southern States and municipal officers, after discussion of the question with Secretary of Labor Wilson.

The Southern Commercial Congress indorsed the plan.

Among the subjects indorsed by the congress were: national and State aid for better highways, efforts of the American Bar Association to "modernize" procedure and practice of courts; organization of a "semiofficial national chamber of agriculture," as proposed by the Association of Agricultural Commissioners, which met here with the congress; laws for cooperative marketing; purchasing and distribution of goods for the benefit of American farmers.

The women's auxiliary to the congress adopted resolutions favoring legislation to abolish child labor, favoring compulsory education, factory inspection, minimum wages, maximum work hours for women and children, and establishments employing the auxiliary in the work of organizing state and country branches of the League to Enforce Peace.

RECOMMENDS SUSPENSION OF RICHMOND FOR ONE YEAR

Ecclesiastical Court Renders Verdict Against Rector of St. John's Church, Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, December 17.—The Ecclesiastical Court which tried the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church, on charges of conduct unbecoming a clergyman, today rendered a verdict recommending that he be suspended from the performance of his church duties for one year.

The trial was the result of a controversy between Mr. Richmond and Bishop Rhinelander over the conduct of affairs in St. John's Church.

Early this year Bishop Rhinelander, another clergyman to St. John's Church, and Mr. Richmond and his supporters returned him, advised Members of the church opposed to Mr. Richmond held a meeting on the sidewalk and elected a "barbarous" vestry.

The County clerk ordered Mr. Richmond to turn over the church property to the "barbarous" vestry. An appeal from this decision is pending.

Mr. Richmond was found guilty by the church trustees on four counts and acquitted on two counts. He has a right to appeal today's verdict to the Provincial Court of the church.

Brothers Sent to Grand Jury on Charge of Slaying Man in Gun Battle.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO BLOW UP WELLAND CANAL

Paul Koenig and Richard Lyendecker Arrested by Department of Justice Agents in New York.

NEW YORK, December 17.—Paul Koenig, formerly head of the secret service of the Hamburg-American Line, and Richard Lyendecker were arrested tonight by agents of the Department of Justice charged with conspiring to blow up the Welland Canal.

Koenig was arrested in the offices here of the Hamburg-American Line, the steamship company's bureau of investigation, but since then, it is charged, he has been the head of the German secret service in the United States.

Lyendecker was taken into custody at his office at 351 Fifth Avenue, where he has been selling antiques. The agents of the Department of Justice declare they found there maps and drawings of the Welland Canal, both men are said to have admitted they had been along the border on the American side, but asserted that they did not cross into Canada.

The specific charge preferred against the men is violation of the Espionage Act of the United States penal code which prohibits the planning within the boundaries of the United States of a military expedition against a foreign power.

Lyendecker claims to be an American citizen, and has admitted, it is said, that he has been employed by Koenig. The latter took out his first citizenship papers ten years ago, but never applied for his second citizenship. Koenig, under the name of Stemmer, was charged, was responsible for the training of Gustav Stahl, the assassin in which he declared he had seen guns on board the Lusitania, the day before she sailed on her last voyage. Stahl was convicted on a charge of burglary and sentenced to eighteen months in the Federal Prison at Atlanta.

DAY OF MIRACLES IS NOT PASSED

Miracles Are Performed Here In Richmond Every Day to Men and Women.

Wonderful Happenings for Those Who Are in Ill Health.

It has often been said that the day of miracles has past, but this is refuted by the evidence of the day. There are actually seen miracles performed before their very eyes. It is no uncommon thing for a man or woman to write that they have been sick for a number of years, or who a number of ailments and suddenly become well by taking a medicine that is now known the country over for the good it has done. One of the people right here in Richmond was relieved from her troubles by Mrs. A. Pedrick, who lives at 215 South Laurel Street. She recently told the Tanlac representative here, Mr. Prince: "My stomach was very weak and I felt that I needed a tonic. Gas formed on my stomach and came up in my throat and choked when I didn't eat anything. I was put on a diet but it didn't seem to help me. My head hurt me so bad that I thought I would go crazy. I had that dull heavy feeling and hurt all the time. I caught Tanlac for a friend, but I used it myself. I haven't been bothered with headaches since. My stomach is stronger, and I can eat things that I couldn't think before. The gas on my stomach and my head no longer bother me any more, and I feel much stronger than I was before, and feel more like doing my own work. I recommend Tanlac to every one, because I know it is a good medicine."

What greater miracle can be performed than the returning of health to people that have had a number of ailments such as Mrs. Pedrick had? And this same miracle can be performed in your case. Just go to one of the Polk Bros. Drug Store and get a bottle of Tanlac. Mr. Prince lives at 1015 Broad and Third Street, and he will gladly give you any information you may desire about Tanlac. Sold only at the Polk Bros. Drug Store. Price 25 per bottle. Advertisement.

Mrs. Galt also counts among the many gifts a bracelet from the Brazilian government, a Navajo blanket from Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, a scarf of wonderful texture sent by the deposed Queen of Hawaii and barrel of apples from Virginia.

It is probable that the rare Llama rug of ivory white fur, on which both the President's daughters knelt at their marriages, will be used by the President and Mrs. Galt when they take their marriage vows at the altar. The minister, and Mme. Denezet and is of rare worth and beauty.

Thomas H. Birch, United States minister to Portugal, and his wife today presented a magnificent vase of Cales de Parahwa ware. The vase is decorated with heavy silver embellishments.

SPEAKER AND MRS. CLARK SEND SILVER COMPOTE

Among other gifts which have been selected for Mrs. Galt, two are especially worthy of note, the handsome silver compote for cake or fruit which the Speaker and Mrs. Champ Clark presented yesterday, and the gift from the Pocahontas Memorial Association, a high relief sculpture of the heroic statue of the Indian maid which is to be placed on Jamestown Island by the association next spring. This is considered particularly appropriate in view of Mrs. Galt's descent from the heroine of early Virginia romance.

The women to whom the idea of such a gift to Mrs. Galt occurred, and who have attended to the details of its presentation, include Mrs. Ella Lorraine Dorsey, of Washington, president of the Pocahontas Association; Mrs. Joseph D. Biddle, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Mary Desha, of Washington; Mrs. Roger F. Pryor, and Mrs. John R. Garrison, of Washington.

The bronze statue represents the Indian princess at the moment when she comes from the tent of Powhatan, her father.

TO ATTEND CHRISTENING

Most of the members of the wedding party will witness the christening of Ellen Wilson McAdoo, the seven-months-old daughter of Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. McAdoo, and the President's only grand-daughter.

President Wilson will act as godfather for the baby, and godmother will be Mrs. Francis R. Sayre, her aunt, and Miss Helen Woodrow Jones, the President's cousin.

Elaborate arrangements were made for christening the baby at home during the ceremony. All traffic will be diverted from the street, and a heavy guard of policemen and Secret Service agents will go on duty about the house early in the evening.

Details of the wedding trip were kept secret to-night, but it became known that the couple plan to leave Washington soon after the ceremony and to go to some point in the South. There will be no effort to keep their whereabouts a secret.

Guests from Richmond who will attend the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Howe, of 114 Grove Avenue. Mr. Howe is a nephew of President Wilson. They will leave this morning at 9:25 o'clock in a special car from Byrd Street Station, returning to Richmond tomorrow.
